Other Organizations Take
Similar Action

Pickaway county Republican committees had jumped on the "band wagon." Thursday, by endorsing John W. Bricker, former attorney general, for the nomination for governor of Ohio.

Announcement of the party's action was made by Tom A. Renick, chairman of the executive committee.

Several Republican organizations in Ohio counties have voted their support for Mr. Bricker for the nomination. The state organization is rallying around the Mt. Sterling native, and making every effort to keep other possible candidates out of the race.

A resolution sent to state Republican headquarters was signed by Mr. Renick and by John Walters, chairman of the central committee, and by William D. Earle, secretary of the executive committee.

The resolution follows:

Whereas, we, members of the Pickaway County Central and Executive Committees have this 21st day of December, 1937, met in the City of Circleville for the purpose of giving consideration to party affairs, and,

Whereas, John W. Bricker is an outstanding Republican and is very popular with the residents of this county, and,

Whereas, John W. Bricker has served his State with honor and distinction in the office of Attorney General of the State of Ohio, and,

Whereas, we feel that John W. Bricker is entirely consonant with the governmental needs of the State of Ohio, Therefore, be it resolved that we favor John W. Bricker for the Republican nomination for Governor in 1938, and that we do pledge him our wholehearted and enthusiastic support for nomination and election as Governor of Ohio.

Veteran Soviet Leaders Shot

AVEL YENUKIDZE

LEO M. KARAKHAN

CHIEF among eight veteran Soviet Union leaders executed in the most recent group, were Leo M. Karakhan and Avel Yenukidze. Karakhan, recently recalled as ambassador to Turkey, once was vice commissar of foreign affairs. Yenukidze, a veteran of the revolution and secretary of the Central Communist committee until 1935, was a close personal friend of Dictator Josef Stalin until his arrest. In announcing the executions, the government news agency said the eight were found guilty of "terroristic activities and systematic espionage" for an unnamed foreign nation.

Body of Flying St. Nick Lost in Boston Harbor

Sergeant Harold J. Kraner, 35, Leaps From Airplane to Land on Field Amid Happy Children, But Mishap Brings Tragedy

BOSTON, Dec. 23—(UP)—Army, navy, coast guard and police authorities co-operated today in a search of Boston harbor for the body of an aerial Santa Claus whose parachute leap to the scene of a gay children's Christmas party miscarried and ended in death.

Sergeant Harold J. Kraner, 35, of the army air corps, wearing the traditional red and white costume of St. Nick, jumped from an army biplane last night, intending to land near the air corps hangar, where the children of reserve officers and enlisted men gleefully awaited his arrival.

A southwest wind caught him and swept him into the sea as he struggled to free himself from the cumbersome folds of the parachute. The weight of the Santa Claus costume made his flight even more hopeless, and he sank from sight.

A report that Kraner's body had been washed on a sand-bar reached army headquarters three hours later, but a search by coast guard and police boats was fruitless. The boat crews, ordered to patrol the scene through the night, were to be assisted at dawn by army and navy planes.

Own Son Waiting

The 100 children at the party, who knew nothing of the tragedy, shrieked in delight when a substitute Santa appeared to distribute toys and candy. Kraner's year-old son was to have been present. Instead, he waited in another section of the airport with his young mother, who was near collapse. She refused to leave so long as the search went on.

Kraner climbed into the open-cockpit plane at dusk with Capt. Richard Cobb, commanding officer of the air base. When they reached an altitude of approximately 1,500 feet, Santa climbed out. His parachute opened perfectly, and it appeared as if the jump would be successful.

Cobb circled and watched as the bewhiskered figure floated toward the earth. As soon as he saw what had happened, Cobb landed and hurried to the hangar for a

BOY, 10, BETTER AFTER LUNG GIVES UP TACK

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23—(UP)—Ten-year-old Johnny Thompson of Harlingen, Tex., expected to start back home today after physicians at the Chevalier Jackson bronchoscopy clinic of Temple university hospital removed a tack from his lung.

Johnny swallowed the tack two years ago. It worked its way into his lungs and New Orleans surgeons were unable to remove it. The boy was sent to Philadelphia by the Travelers' Aid society and last week a successful operation was performed.

ANOTHER MAJOR FIRE MENACES MOUNT VERNON

MT. VERNON, Dec. 23—(UP)—For the second time in two months, a major fire threatened

Mt. Vernon's downtown business district early today when flames swept the Masonic temple causing damage estimated at $20,000.

A casualty in the blaze, which broke out only three blocks from the scene of the $300,000 fire last Oct. 31, was Fire Chief U. G. Pickard, who suffered a broken leg in a fall.

Aided by two members of the Newark fire department, local fire-fighters succeeded in extinguishing the blaze at 6 a. m.

Cause of the fire had not yet been determined.

GAMING DEVICE COURT CONTEST INVOLVES JUDGE

DAYTON, Dec. 23—(UP)—An affidavit charging Common Pleas Judge Null M. Hodapp of Montgomery county with prejudice was expected to be filed today with Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio supreme court as the latest move in Dayton's controversy over slot machines.

Judge Hodapp yesterday granted an injunction restraining law enforcement agents from molesting merchants displaying pinball and slot machines and similar devices. The injunction specifically named Police Chief R. F. Wurstner, Manager Fred Eichleberger and Sheriff Phil Kloss.

A ruling of Judge M. E. Schiaffini recently banned the machines as "gambling devices."

After Judge Hodapp had issued the injunction, the prejudice affidavit was filed by Prosecutor Nicholas Nolan with the clerk of courts and was certified. Nolan alleged that Assistant Prosecutor Dan Kelley had played slot machines in a place of business operated by Judge Hodapp in Argonne Forest park, outside Dayton.

NORRIS CLAIMS PRESIDENT MAY ASK THIRD TERM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23—(UP)—Continued blocking of the New Deal program will "compel" President Roosevelt to seek a third term, Sen. George W. Norris, I. Neb., an influential New Deal backer, said today.

Merchandise prizes will be given in fourth and fifth places in both classes. Residences are divided, with properties valued at more than $5,000 in one division, and those under that valuation in the other.

It is hard for anyone to understand the senate, especially its tricky, unreliable and immoral presiding officer," the governor said.

Yoder Referred To

He referred to Lieut. Gov. Paul P. Yoder, leader of the insurgent bloc.

The governor denied reports that the administration was attempting to bring about quick adjournment in order to forestall the senate inquiry, but he added:

"This does not mean that I would hesitate to take any action that the circumstances warrant if the senate continues to fail in its primary duty."

The governor apparently referred to the administration's "must" legislation—the 1938 relief program and the supplemental appropriations bill, both approved by the house.

It was charged administration forces tried—and failed—to persuade the house to reconvene today to be ready for immediate action.

BID OF $80 TOO MUCH FOR HORSE; DROPS DEAD

HUMBOLDT, Ia., Dec. 23—(UP)—A public auction was being held at the Gottlieb Hanselman farm near here.

"How much am I offered for this fine horse?" cried the auctioneer.

"Seventy-five dollars," came a reply.

"I bid $75, do I hear $80?"

"Eighty dollars."

The horse dropped dead.

DAVEY ASSAILED "GRAFT" PROBE ALTHOUGH DENYING ANY EFFORT TO BLOCK FULL INVESTIGATION

"Good Time At Taxpayers' Expense" Is Charged In Executive's Statement

ADJOURNMENT DELAYED

Lawrence Promises Relief Will Be Enacted

COLUMBUS, Dec. 23—(UP)—"Urged" by Gov. Davey to "have a good time at the expense of the taxpayers," the senate "hatchet-men" met today to push through a $40,000 appropriation for expenses of the committee appointed to investigate alleged "legal graft" in state departments.

The appropriation bill, which also includes a $20,000 item for continuation of the parole investigation, was approved by the senate finance committee, and is up for passage in the upper house today.

By threatening to tie up important legislation, insurgent leaders believed the house and the governor would be forced to approve the bill.

The governor, in a press conference yesterday, said he was not "the least bit concerned" about the proposed investigation, but at the same time he denounced the tactics of the upper house.

"It is hard for anyone to understand the senate, especially its tricky, unreliable and immoral presiding officer," the governor said.

Failure of persons to correctly address packages and letters, use the right amount of postage and place letters in the correct mailing windows has caused postal employees much extra work.

Holiday Seals Used

On several letters workers found Christmas seals used for postage. Numerous Christmas cards were mailed with incorrect addresses. One letter, Mr. Hays said, was sent to "Mr. and Mrs. Davis, City." They have experienced difficulty, also in assorting the mail for Ann Brown, Circleville. "There are seven Ann Browns in Circleville," Mr. Hays said.

Many persons fail to wrap liquids in a material that will absorb it in case of breakage, Mr. Hays said. Difficulty was also experienced with persons mailing photographs. Photographs must be packed with heavy corrugated cardboard on each side, with the corrugations running in opposite directions.

The only mail that will be delivered on Christmas will be special delivery matter.

NAVY CONTRACTS FOR 21 PLANES AT $5,299,538

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23—(UP)—The navy today announced award of a contract for $5,299,538 for the purchase of 21 giant naval patrol bombing planes from the Glenn L. Martin Co., of Baltimore, Md.

Today's contract was the second recently for giant bombing planes. The navy contracted earlier with the Consolidated Aircraft corporation of San Diego for the purchase of 37 bombing planes of the same type for $4,500,000.

Navy officials said the new planes, when delivered, will be used for replacements of planes now becoming obsolete. They will replace planes now attached to the U. S. fleet.

The order for the additional planes was considered significant as indicative of the steady march of the U. S. navy toward strengthening its forces both in the air and on the sea.

The orders for new airplanes of the latest type and considered superior to the planes of any other naval force have been awarded regularly as the navy department pushed construction of new warships, including the two super battleships now under order in the New York and Philadelphia navy yards.

Reference to the new orders, it was understood, will be made in notes to be sent to the United States and British governments on the attacks on the United States gunboat Panay and the British gunboat Ladybird.

Issuance of the orders was regarded here as noteworthy in view of previous assurances that care would be taken to guard against attacks on foreign interests.

The foreign office, it was learned today, has begun drafting a reply to American notes.

FEDERAL PROBE OF LEASES ON MARBLE SOUGHT

Dr. Morgan Believes Fraud
Against Government May Be Revealed

T.V.A. LAND AT STAKE

Senator's Property Named In Chairman's Charges

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 23—(UP)—Congress may be asked to investigate the leases on marble deposits in the Tennessee Valley authority's Norris dam reservoir held by Senator George L. Berry, D. Tenn., and 29 associates, it was indicated today.

Dr. A. E. Morgan, T. V. A. chairman, suggested the possibility of an inquiry after a dispute among the three T. V. A. directors over the Berry group's claims had been brought into the open.

The chairman appeared voluntarily at a land condemnation hearing last Monday, and testified that he had opposed paying reparations for the marble deposits because he felt that there was "intent to defraud the government."

At the same time, he revealed that he had disagreed with the other T. V. A. directors—David E. Lilienthal and Dr. H. A. Morgan—in their attempts to conciliate the Berry claims in 1936.

Bad Faith Charged

Lilienthal and Dr. H. A. Morgan widened the break yesterday by attacking parts of the chairman's testimony as "false and malicious." They defended their decision to settle the claims by declaring that "bad faith" by the Berry group in obtaining the leases was an "assumption," not a fact.

Replying to the chairman's testimony that T. V. A. experts, including geologists, had found the marble deposits worthless, the two directors declared that the "difference" that they had ignored the findings of their own experts "is false and malicious."

They asserted that their decision to conciliate could not be interpreted as admitting the claimed value of the leases, which the Berry group had estimated was between $1,800,000 and $2,500,000.

The two directors also accused the chairman of having attempted to "discredit" T. V. A. attorneys, and charged that "this attempt" was "unjust, unsupported by the facts, prejudicial to the interests of the government in a pending, judicial proceeding, and, while productive of personal publicity, is inconsistent with our conception of the responsibilities of public office."

The conciliation was not consummated, and last May the T. V. A. started land condemnation proceedings. A three-member commission ended hearings in the case Tuesday.

LAWSUIT ENDS AFTER 9 TIMES IN HIGH COURT

HELENA, Mont. (UP)—The longest lawsuit between two individuals in Montana's legal history ended when District Judge George W. Padbury, Jr., signed a judgment in interpleader, ordering payment of $7,450.33 to C. M. Burgess, of Townsend, in a suit begun in 1924 against W. D. Lasby, also of Townsend.

The suit was sent to the Montana Supreme Court nine times during its history, and 16 different district judges were called in to hear testimony before final settlement.

The case was an outgrowth of an oil "oil fever" which struck Broadwater Valley and Townsend in 1920, when it was believed that oil strikes in the section were imminent.

Records of the suit show that Lasby purchased the Burgess ranch, paying a part of the purchase price in cash and giving a mortgage for the balance.

By 1924, according to the records, no oil was found. Lasby failed to make payments on the mortgage and Burgess brought the foreclosure suit. The case then began its long trek through the courts.

CHAMPION COON DOG LOSES ITS PRESTIGE

OLD APPLETON, Mo., Dec. 16—(UP)—Ben Schnurbusch's hound dog—renowned throughout the Ozarks for his ability to hunt coons—has found one raccoon that he'll let alone hereafter.

Twelve days after the hound disappeared a hunter saw a dog's tail sticking out from a hollow log. Investigator proved it was Schnurbusch's coon dog, nearly dead from starvation. Schnurbusch said that some wily raccoon probably had lured the dog into the log, from which it was unable to escape.

FIRST DRIVER PERMIT

PRINCETON, Mass. (UP)—Hanging on the wall of his office is the driver's license of F. Carlton Dole—the first ever issued in this country.

The license, issued by the city of Yonkers, is dated April 6, 1901, and cost Dole $2.

To get the "certificate of the mobile class," which entitled him to "operate the mobile $960 steam boiler and engine to drive through the streets of Yonkers," Dole had to "shovel coal into the steam boilers at Yonkers City Hall for three hours."

Other problems of the clothing industry are stressed—such as seasonal unemployment, chiseling, and the speed-up system; and it shows that the efforts of all concerned—manufacturers, workers, retailers, and consumers—are needed to rid the industry of these conditions.

Attorney General Reveals Ruling on School Set-Up

If a board of education maintains a high school that has not been classified, it is expending public funds for maintaining and conducting a type of school that is not authorized by law.

The ruling is contained in an opinion of the attorney general received by George McDowell, superintendent of county schools, from E. N. Dietrich, state director of education.

Two reports of the death were made. The official death certificate, signed by Dr. A. F. Wagner, autopsy surgeon, gave the causes as acute toxic nephritis, with acute and chronic alcoholism as contributory factors. The other, given out by the coroner's office, said it was due to heart disease and lung congestion.

Neither of them attached any importance to the person who interrupted Healy somewhere along his round of the night clubs Sunday night and Monday morning, and fought with him. Healy's head was cut and bruised, but Dr. Wagner said the wounds were superficial.

Healy, creator of the "stooge," and a featured star for many years in comedy roles for the vaudeville, movies and radio, was celebrating the birth of his first son when he ran afoul of his foe Sunday night. He had been in such places as the Trocadero, the Brown Derby and Clara Bow's "It" club before he alighted from a taxi cab in front of the Plaza hotel with his face bleeding.

If a board of education, in its discretion, establishes a high school within its school district, a mandatory duty then becomes imposed upon that board to maintain a high school which will meet certain standards so that the high school can be classified by the director of education as a first, or second, or third grade high school," the ruling says.

Charters of three county schools, Washington, Muhlenberg and Salt Creek, have been revoked by the state department of education. Small enrollment in the schools was the principal cause for the revoking of the charters.

Revolving of the charters becomes effective at the term beginning in September, 1938.

If the schools remain permanently on the non-approved list the seniors may go to other approved schools with tuition paid by their home districts.

Q. What is speeding? A. Covering ground too fast.

Q. Name three places where a driver should not park. A. Alleys.

Q. Where should a driver park in reference to a cross walk? A. No.

Q. When should a driver sound his horn? A. Yes.

FRANCE ISSUES PROTESTANTISM VISITOR'S BOOK

PARIS (UP)—Protestant shrines in France and a history of Protestantism in the country are included in a new booklet issued in English under the auspices of M. Roland Marcel, high commissioner for tourist travel in France. The booklet is designed for the convenience of all Anglo-Saxon Protestants.

A reproduction of the statue of Gaspard de Coligny, the Huguenot admiral of France who met his death on St. Bartholomew's day, is the cover design. Historical notes trace Protestantism in France through its establishment, the period of the religious wars, the Edict of Nantes in force, the "wilderness" period when thousands of Huguenots fled to the wilderness rather than foreswear their faith, and the period of increasing liberty, to the present.

Shrines include Etaples on the Channel coast where Lefevre, the initiator of the French Reformation, was born; Nerac, where he died in the chateau of the Queen of Navarre; Strasburg, where the first French Reformed Church was built in 1538; Nantes where Henri IV granted the Huguenots freedom of worship in 1598, and many other places throughout the country which are of particular interest to Protestants.

"Protestant map of France," illustrations and information regarding Protestant museums are included in the booklet.

FLOOD DEFENSE SURVEY ENDED IN OHIO REGION

Army Engineer Discloses Many Details To Confab In Portsmouth

PROTECTION DEMANDED

Scioto Backwaters Close "Y" Highway

PORSCMOUTH, Dec. 23—Colonel D. O. Elliott, Cincinnati, district army engineer, completed a survey of preliminary flood defense projects in Ashland, Ky., and Ironton and Portsmouth Wednesday, and reported the results of his findings to the Citizens Flood Defense Committee at a meeting in Council chambers.

Colonel Elliott reviewed survey work in Ashland and Wednesday morning he inspected work being done in Ironton and Portsmouth. The survey here has been underway for one month and soon foundation explorations will begin in Portsmouth, he said. The Portsmouth committee was told that explorations had been under way in Ironton for a long time.

The Citizens Committee here is engaged in a campaign to impress Federal officials of the need for a Portsmouth flood wall. Thus far Portsmouth has been disfavored because it already has a wall, notwithstanding the fact that the city is at the mercy of high waters before other cities on the Ohio river because these other cities are better protected by natural elevation conditions.

Alan Jordan, Columbus, Secretary of the Ohio Valley Conservation and Flood Control Congress, was present at the meeting and outlined the work his department had been doing the last year toward flood defense control. He reviewed the Muskingum conservancy system and other projects.

The Ohio river reached a crest here Wednesday afternoon at 41.5 feet, 8½ feet under the flood stage. F. B. Winter, river observer, said, The river was expected to remain stationary until Thursday morning. Backwaters of the Scioto closed the "Y" road west of Portsmouth. Traffic on U. S. Highway 52 was detoured over the Hill Road. No other roads in this area were blocked by the rising water.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Fight For Your Lady," a picture already hailed by pre-view audiences as one of the season's most amusing and original films, comes to the screen of the Cliftona Theatre Friday and Saturday. It is a comedy romance which scintillates with fast action and gold-laugh episodes.

The fun starts right from the beginning at the ringsides of a wrestling-match in London, England, when a wrestler who has agreed to "lie down," changes his mind at the crucial moment and wins, instead of losing. This leads, not to the usual complications of vengeance by a racketeer mob, but to bankruptcy for his broke manager. So the latter switches his managerial abilities to the handling of an American concert singer, while the wrestler finds solace in the companionship of the singer's fiancee, an actress of gold-digging proclivities.

The action then shifts from London to Budapest, where a famous duellist and a pretty feminine night club entertainer cross the singer's path. With the result that the vocal star finds himself matched for a sword combat with the formidable duellist, from which he has scant chance of emerging alive.

Heading the players are John Boles and Jack Oakie who are costarred, Margot Grahame and Ida Lupino, featured.

AT THE GRAND

Walter Brennan, a new star in movieland, is the featured actor in "The Affairs of Cappy Ricks" at The Grand Theatre Thursday and Friday. Brennan was granted the Academy award for his supporting role in "Come and Get It," starring Edward Arnold.

MUSEUM CROWDS LAUD FRENCH GOTHIC ALTAR

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A 14th century French Gothic altar, anonymous gift to the Pennsylvania Museum of Art, excited considerable comment here as crowds flock to view it in the museum chapel.

The altar came from Norroy in the Gorges region of France. It is composed of three columns with twisted shafts and leafy capitals supporting the molded slab on top. The original crosses of consecration, cut with a chisel, are preserved on the top of the slab, while below, the main body of the altar is surmounted with six pointed arches of finely traced Gothic design.

TRAVIS, ADKINS HANG MARCH 21 FOR ABDUCTION

Two Paroled Convicts Hear Judge In Huntington Determine Date

PREJUDICE IS CHARGED

Appeal Groundwork Laid By Defendants

John Travis, 25, and Orville Adkins, 24, who served terms in the Ohio reformatory under sentences from Pickaway county, were sentenced Wednesday in Huntington, W. Va., to be hanged on March 21 for the abduction of Dr. James Seder, 79, West Virginia dry leader.

Arnett A. Booth, 46, the third member of the group, heard the same sentence. Dr. Seder was kidnapped Nov. 1, found on Nov. 11 near an abandoned coal mine, and died four days later.

Travis and Adkins wept silently as Judge H. Clay Warth imposed the sentence on Booth. Booth's only request was that he be permitted to stay in the county jail until pains in his side were cured. He asked for a chair before the sentence, complaining of abdominal pains.

Adkins said nothing. Travis told the court he had been reading the Bible. He quoted: "Fear not, those who can kill the body and can do no more." Travis was married five days after Dr. Seder was kidnapped.

The attorney for the two youths said appeals would be made on the grounds that a juror was prejudiced. He did not elaborate on that statement. Judge Warth overruled new trial motions. Booth's attorneys did not indicate if they plan an appeal.

If the sentence is carried out, it will be the first triple execution in West Virginia since 1924.

John Travis and Orville Adkins were sentenced by Judge J. W. Adkins under the names of James Wensfield and Pete Adams, respectively, to one to 15 years in Mansfield reformatory for auto theft.

A demand for $50,000 ransom was made in the Seder abduction. It was never paid. Physicians testified Dr. Seder died of pneumonia incurred through exposure and injuries.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU—BY BOB BURNS

You ain't gonna get me mixed up in any of these strike situations but I'll bet you the reason we're havin' so many of 'em is either because one side is unreasonable or else one side don't understand the other side's problems.

It's like the time the piano salesman come way back in the mountains and called on my uncle. The salesman started to show the catalogue and my uncle says "Well, you're kinda unreasonable to expect me to pick a piano just from seein' a picture of it—why don't you show me a sample?" The salesman says, "Well, I'm afoot—you don't expect me to carry a piano with me?"

My uncle says, "That's the trouble with you white-collared fellas—you're afraid to do a little manual labor."

CHILLICOTHE TO EX-SLAVE, 101, GET NEW HOTEL DAYTONITE SAYS

CHILLICOTHE, Dec. 23—Purchase of a West Main street site here by George L. Uricho, operator of the Hotel Holden, Dayton, and co-operator of the Fort Washington and Dennison Hotels in Cincinnati, was disclosed today by Herman and Hurst, real estate brokers.

At Dayton, Uricho stated he hoped to construct a 100-room modern, fireproof hotel after razing the old McCoy home, which occupies the site. He stated his architect would be in Chillicothe tomorrow to study the location and interview contractors.

J. Stuart, an associate of Uricho, wrote Herman and Hurst that the Chillicothe property was bought after trips were made all over the state seeking advantageous locations. "Chillicothe," he wrote, "holds more for the future than any city near its size in the entire state, in our estimation."

'Tis the Day Before CHRISTMAS

If, the day before Christmas, you forgot
About old Uncle Charlie, or dear Cousin Dot;
Don't sit in a trance wondering what to do next,
But pick up the paper and turn to the text
Where the merchants and makers of gifts by the score
Give a host of suggestions you've not seen before.
To the last-minute shopper, when Christmas is near,
The advertisements carry a message of cheer.
Spread them out on your knee, light the fire at your feet,
Then leisurely shop—page by page, sheet by sheet.
Picking presents thus hall-marked by each maker's name
Adds considerable joy to the tone of the game.
For in advertised products, it's clearly been shown,
Every gift bears the mark of a name that is known.
When next morning you shop, you'll know just where to go;
You'll save time, cash and energy—all at one throw.
Use your newspaper now if your shopping time's dear;
Better yet, use it daily throughout the New Year!

CO-OPERATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

TWO ideas expressed by Herbert Hoover in his recent address at Chicago seem particularly worth remembering.

First, a system of free men implies a vast amount of co-operation between groups outside of government, and with government. "The more co-operation, the less government."

Second, "No system can stand on pure economics. The economic and social gears must be enmeshed."

As for co-operation, we need it everywhere—co-operation by business men with other business men, by labor with labor, by farmers with farmers, by all of these with government, by every part of our nation and country with every other part. Real co-operation is necessary to make our capitalist system work. If the system fails, driving us into Fascism or Socialism, it will be from lack of teamwork.

The second idea is comparatively new. Experts have been trying for years to explain our present economic system and its troubles on the basis of theories from ancient books. When we take a fresh look at real life, we find that business problems and social problems are all bound up together, and we can't understand our economic troubles without understanding people and their mass-behavior.

The business analysts and the psychologists should get together. Incidentally, you can find some pretty good psychologists among politicians.

FARMS PREFERRED

RURAL life is up again to a surprising degree. A survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion shows the farmers are now so satisfied with their lot that they vote more than two to one in favor of farm life.

City opinion is almost as strong in favor of the country, and small towns, midway between city and country, which are in good position to judge, agree that the farmers are better off.

With this attitude so overwhelming among all groups, we can probably expect a strong exodus from city to country again. And will the drift be permanent? That is something nobody can tell.

There are said to be 35,000 parts in a present-day automobile, and it's surprising how few of them fall off.

We're sort o' fed up on 1937, and the new year may come along any time it likes.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up to find Christmas only a short putt away and me as unprepared for it as we are for war. Why does it sneak up on me this way every year? Here they come and there they go, the late shoppers. Late they are and foolish too for such delay, but the thought strikes me that they appear more imbued with the holiday spirit than the woman I saw buying toys a month ago. And where is that snow? We should have snow for Christmas. Seems as though that is not asking too much, considering all the rain we have had lately.

A 'phone call from Sam Radner, ready to take off on a hunting trip to Pike county and checking on an earlier invitation. But had to express regrets and get along on memories of a similar jaunt with Sam last year on which he and Pres Endler added to their reputations as competent afield. Not yet, however, have I solved the mystery of how Pres bagged that bunny without me hearing the report of his gun. Strange it is how the imagination of other wise perfectly honest and truthful folk will run away with them in discussion of hunting or fishing prowess.

Noted a big truck rolling in from the North on Court street at 40 miles an hour and wondered whether anything ever will be done to break up the speeding on that lane of heavy traffic. Probably not until someone is killed.

Away in the evening to attend the drawing at the courthouse, but the rain drove me back to the plant where came Bugs McCrady, the efficient chief of police. Enjoyed a long chat with him and from his tales did form the opinion that the life of a policeman is not all beer and skittles as some believe. Was fully aware of that fact many years ago when as a reporter I had the police run in a city, but the fact had somehow been obscured by other more or less important information. Home, then, at a late hour and straightway to bed.

Met Bud Harden at the post and Karl Herrmann, congratulating both on their appointments to Mayor Bill's official family. In the mail many Christmas greetings. Year by year they improve in beauty. And in expense, I might add.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

DR. FRANK FACES ILL WILL

WASHINGTON — Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican committee to draft a new declaration of principles, has one job on his hands not mentioned when he was appointed last week.

It is to win the good will of veteran G. O. P. leaders in Congress.

Almost to a man these leaders privately are cold toward the former University of Wisconsin president. Their hostility is not so much personal, (though that is a factor) as against putting an academician at the head of the platform committee.

Congressional chiefs put their protest before Colonel Frank Knox at a secret meeting in Washington just a week before the St. Louis conference, and Knox wanted them to telegraph National Chairman Hamilton demanding that he call off the whole thing, committee, platform, everything.

However, the GOP congressmen declined to intervene.

"We were against this thing when Hoover started it," one of them said, "and our counsel was rejected. We don't want to have any part of it now."

Then it was disclosed that of about 25 names on Hamilton's list of likely candidates for committee chairman, 18 were either college professors or presidents.

"Can you beat that for amateur politics?" wailed another congressional leader. "After all the criticism we Republicans have been handing to Roosevelt's brain-trusters! And now we consider putting one of them at the head of this committee. Can you picture what the Democrats will say! This is just handing it to them."

"If Hamilton and Hoover insist on having a committee, then the thing to do is put a farmer or business man at its head. We need someone with popular appeal, who won't lay himself open to kidding even before he gets started."

PRESIDENT'S PLAN

While waiting for the full Panay apology from Tokyo, the President has been working on a careful strategy of his own in case the Japanese fail to come clean.

He has been keeping confidential the report of the officers of the Panay for two reasons:

(1) It is a most gruesome document giving evidence of deliberate Japanese brutality and he does not wish to arouse the American Public by its publication if the Japanese tender complete apologies and reparation.

(2) But if not, the President plans to publish the report largely for the purpose of stiffening public opinion for future eventualities in the Far East.

Simultaneously, the President has been giving thought to a radio speech in which he would give his views of Japan's atrocities in China and the policy to be followed by the United States. This, if the Japanese do not give full assurances on behalf of the Emperor, may outline an entirely new American attitude in the Far East.

NOTE—One of the most significant Far Eastern developments is the fact that the Japanese who fired on the Panay were under the command of Colonel Hashimoto, famous leader of the young Japanese fascists, who killed Japan's government chiefs in February, 1936, and seized the city of Tokyo.

There are said to be 35,000 parts in a present-day automobile, and it's surprising how few of them fall off.

We're sort o' fed up on 1937, and the new year may come along any time it likes.

Anatomy of the Nails and Their Physiology

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE NAILS are very ingenious devices of nature. For the an- tal, tooth and claw are almost equally important for defense, of- fense, and tearing food apart.

Men still find these terminal facilities of the fingers useful, although our toenails are no longer any good to us. The toenails are undoubtedly undergoing degener- ation and atrophy; in most people hardly any nail except the nail of the big toe is more than a thin, paperlike disc.

Whether the nail cells are all formed at the root of the nail bed or whether the whole nail bed keeps forming the nail cells is not decided, but the nail bed certainly contributes to the nutrition of the nail.

If the nail is separated from the nail bed by injury, it becomes discolored, cloudy and distorted. The nail bed and the nail grow out together.

The white spot at the root of the nail—the lunula—is white because the cells there are young and have not become completely keratinized. If this explanation is true, it supports the idea that all the nail cells arise from the root cells in the skin at the base.

If injured or removed, the root, matrix and nail bed will replace a nail completely.

A nail grows from the root to the free edge in 130 to 160 days. The finger nails grow much faster than the toenails. They grow faster in summer than in winter. Children's nails grow faster than the end of the fingers.

Anatomically nails, like hairs, are simply adaptations of the skin. The epidermis of the skin is made up of flat cells, intimately adherent to each other and containing a hard substance known as keratin. The nails simply have more of this hard substance—they have been called the skeleton of the skin cells. They are still more intimately packed together than the skin cells, and the keratin changes to a somewhat different chemical substance, usually called "onychia." It is not affected by weak alkalies or weak acids.

The nail arises from a fold in the skin, which in certain respects corresponds to the hair root. But the nail is nourished, and perhaps formed, from all the skin bed underneath it until the point where it becomes free. The upper surface of the nail is smooth, but the under surface presents a number of longitudinal parallel ridges which fit into similar depressions in the nail bed.

TODAY'S RECIPES

SWEET PICKLED PRUNES

Four pounds prunes, four and one-half cups sugar, two cups vinegar, one-half ounce ginger root, one-half ounce whole cloves, one four-inch stick cinnamon. Wash the prunes, then soak them in cold water 30 minutes. Bring prunes to a boil in this water, then drain.

While draining cook together the vinegar, sugar and spices and let boil for 10 minutes.

Add the prunes and let them simmer in this syrup until tender.

Cool, then pack into sterilized jars.

Seal and store in a cool place to use as needed. Excellent with beef and fowl.

RAISIN CHUTNEY—One box

seedless raisins, one pound brown sugar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon dry mustard, one teaspoon ground ginger, three medium sized onions, chopped fine;

two cups water. Chop the raisins, then put all the ingredients in a heavy kettle and boil 20 minutes.

Stir frequently to prevent burning. Remove from stove, and stir ingredients until they are well mashed. Cool, then seal in sterilized jars. Serve with meats, or mix small amounts with mayonaise for a novel salad dressing.

APPLE MERINGUE PIE—Peecore and stew good tart apples, and sweeten to taste. Put into pie plate lined with crust, grate over it a little cinnamon or nutmeg and put one teaspoon of butter in little bits over pie. Bake about 20 minutes, or until crust is done. Cover with meringue made of whites of two or three eggs beaten stiff with two tablespoons powdered sugar.

Return to oven and brown slowly.

A Contagious Life

The consecrated life is a contagious life. Paul's example inspired others to courageous living: "Most of the brethren in the Lord, being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of God without fear . . . Christ is proclaimed; and therein I rejoice, yea, and I will rejoice." The unselfish life

MANY ACES PRESENT

Heap and Michelosen Head Rival Offensive Corps

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 23—(UP)—Coach Stub Allison today threatened to shake up the University of California football varsity unless the Golden Bears come into condition faster for their game with Alabama on New Year's day.

"The first team better watch its step," Allison warned. "The second team right now is showing a lot more than the first."

The Bears will have two more days of heavy scrimmage before the Christmas holidays. Practice resumes at Pasadena next week.

SAFETY: Two men who recently escaped from Alcatraz prison could have made the swim to shore is indicated by this little girl's record. She is Anastasia (Babe) Scott, San Francisco girl who swam the mile and a quarter from the federal prison to the mainland in 47 minutes.

About This And That In Many Sports

ATHLETICS QUIET

Athletic activities in Circleville and Pickaway county will be quiet during the holiday season.

The high school is not booked and neither are the county teams, although Ashville will take on Mac Sims and his speedy Groveport team one evening next week.

The big game that week will be Ashville at New Holland, the Bulldogs trying to stop the onslaughts of the Kauber team. Other contests booked that evening include Jackson at Deer Creek, Washington at Walnut, Salt Creek at Pickaway, Monroe at Muhlenberg, and Scioto at Darby.

FIGHT RESULTS

BY UNITED PRESS
NEW YORK—Baby Salvy Saban, 147½, New York, outpointed Leonard Del Genio, 145½, New York, (10); Irving Eldredge, 133½, New York, stopped Lou Lombardi, 135, Jersey City, (4); Charley Jackson, 171½, New York, outpointed Danny Peal, 168, Tulsa, Okla., (6).

FUND NOT HELPED

The football game played recently between a picked team of senior stars from Ohio colleges and the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Professional league was billed as a charity contest, but failed to net the Christmas fund at Cincinnati anything. Only 1,500 fans turned out for the game and expenses, including traveling fares of the collegians took all the receipts. Dean White of Circleville scored the winning touchdown for the All-Stars in this game.

FALLS RECORD STRANGE

The Newton Falls high school football team compiled a unique record during the last campaign. The team won five games, tied two and lost one, and during the season the team's linemen scored more points than did the backs. The linemen piled up a total of 62 points to 54 for the backs. Well executed passes, end-around plays and laterals tossed to trailing guards brought about the odd record. D. L. Buchanan, formerly of Circleville, is superintendent of the Newton Falls school.

STARN "SLAPPED"

G. Donald (Rosy) Starn, Kent State football coach who was under fire from Alumni sources during the last football season, recently was given a "slap" by the athletic board of his own school. Starn entered into a tentative agreement to play the University of Akron in 1939 and recommended to the Athletic board that they approve the contest. The board refused the request and passed a resolution making it impossible for the teams to meet before the 1940 campaign.

FARR'S TRAINING SCHEDULE BEGINS FOR JAN. 21 GO

NEW YORK, Dec. 23—(UP)—Tommy Farr, British heavyweight champion, arrives today on the Normandie to begin training for his match with former World Champion Jimmy Braddock Jan. 21 in Madison Square garden.

Braddock, who lost his title to Louis last June, is in training now at Pompton Lakes, N. J. Farr, the former Welsh coal miner who licked Maxie Baer, surprised boxing critics by staying 15 rounds with Louis in an August title match.

COLLEGE FEARS

LOST AFTER 78

CAGE VICTORIES

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Dec. 16

(UPI)—The fate of the nation's best collegiate basketball record—

78 consecutive victories—will rest this season in the hands of a comparatively inexperienced John Tarleton College team.

For four years, the John Tarleton quintet has kept its record unblemished although it often has engaged teams from senior colleges. Coach W. J. Wisdom fears that the remarkable record is due to be ended this season. The entire starting lineup of a year ago is missing; the center tip has been eliminated to give smaller teams the advantage, and opponents will have as an extra incentive the chance to mar Tarleton's record.

A letterman guard, a center, and a forward will form the nucleus of this year's club, with four squadrons of last year and a dozen rangy first-year men.

COUNCILMEN TO HEAR SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT PROGRAM TONIGHT

1938 OFFICIALS ARE INVITED TO SPECIAL CONFAB

Engineer Browne Unable To Be Present For Session Wednesday Eve

NEW LEGISLATION VOTED

State Board Of Health To Receive All Data

An adjourned session of the council meeting called for Wednesday night will be held Thursday night for present councilmen and councilmen-elect to discuss plans for the municipal disposal plant.

Floyd G. Browne, engineer, of Marion, was unable to come to Circleville Wednesday night due to a trip to Delphos. Plans for the disposal plant have been completed and are ready for the approval of council and the state board of health. They will be brought to Circleville and explained by Mr. Browne.

Present councilmen believe it would be wise for the councilmen-elect to hear the explanation and instructed Fred R. Nicholas, clerk, to invite them to the meeting.

An ordinance approving a supplemental letter of agreement between the Container Corporation and the city in regard to the plant operation was passed under suspension of rules. The company has agreed to bear its fair share of the expense in the operation of the plant and asked the right to withdraw from treatment of its wastes at a later date if desired. A site for the plant was provided by the company and treatment of its wastes was included in the municipal plans.

Present councilmen may have another special meeting early next week to consider appropriating $150 to the city engineer fund to take care of expenses resulting from the preparation of a blanket project on street improvements under W. P. A.

DIES PROMISES DRIVE IN HOUSE TO CUT EXPENSE

Texan, Foe Of Wage-Hour Measure, To Support Economy Demands

(Continued from Page One) with information of the action of a house appropriations subcommittee, which is understood to have rejected budget bureau recommendations in two important instances.

The President's letter was a reply to Cartwright who had written Mr. Roosevelt that a majority of his committee opposed the roads cut. Mr. Roosevelt said his administration was making an honest effort to cut the budget down to estimated receipts, involving the problem of "relativity."

"Where can we cut?" the President asked. "That is a matter, first, for the President to make recommendations, and, secondly, for the congress to decide whether the recommendations for cuts should be carried out or changed by substituting different cuts."

Capitol hill reports indicated that house appropriations subcommittee, preparing the supply bill carrying funds for the T. V. A. and the Civilian Conservation Corps, has done this. The committee is understood to have sliced budget recommendations for T. V. A. and increased the amount suggested for the C. C. C., voting 5 to 2 to keep the number of camps at 1,500 instead of cutting them to 1,200 as proposed.

Congress Has Right

"The congress," Mr. Roosevelt told Cartwright, "has a perfect right constitutionally to exceed the budget, but, if the budget is exceeded, obviously the congress must accept full responsibility, and obviously the Democratic members, which have such a large majority in congress, must equally accept the full responsibility."

The highway authorization Mr. Roosevelt sought to provide provides more than $400,000,000 for the next two fiscal years. Action was necessary before Jan. 1, but the committees in both houses failed to respond.

Two accidents occurred during the rescue attempt.

Specialists at the Edward Hines, Jr., memorial hospital said the ticking was caused by a spontaneous movement of the palatal muscles. The action is not completely voluntary, they said, and results from a semi-hysteria. The victim can control it with proper effort.

Hester's head has been ticking ever since a shell exploded near him in France. The noise is audible to persons who stand near him.

He entered the hospital three weeks ago to seek treatment.

A physician said the ticking could be stopped temporarily by inserting a tube from the nose to the throat, holding the palate tightly.

"He can probably cure himself," he said, "by avoiding worry, and with proper psychological treatment."

Hester is 44 years old and the father of four children. It is expected he will be able to return home in time to spend Christmas with his family.

and ALL

Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas to teacher and to the little girl around the corner, to the fellow who fires the furnace in the morning and to the policeman. Merry Christmas to all the tired folk who've been standing behind the counters, to the dependable delivery boy who got the last gift here on time, to the mailman, almost down but by no means out under his hundred-pound load of greeting cards. Merry Christmas to our congressman, the boss, the farmer, the bus driver and the guy who shakes up the chocolate malteds at the drug store. A Happy Yuletide to the tailor, to the income-tax collector, to the butcher and to President Roosevelt. Greetings to grandpa with seventy-four Christmas seasons to his credit and to the child who is enjoying his very first. To all and sundry, big and little, great and small, The Herald wishes the compliments of this joyful season—"A Merry Christmas . . . and God bless us every one."

HALF OF COUNTY PUPILS OBTAIN JOBS AT O.S.U.

University Arranges Work To Help Defray Cost Of Education

CLASSES RESUME JAN. 3

Four Girls Win Places In Glee Club

Nearly one-half of the Pickaway county students attending Ohio State university this year are working to help defray the cost of their college education, it is estimated by William S. Guthrie, director of the men's employment office at the university.

During the quarter just ended, 1,194 men and women have worked in campus departments under the NYA program, earning $15 a month. Guthrie's office has made 1,028 placements of men outside NYA. In addition to these figures are the women students obtaining employment through the office of the dean of women and the hundreds who have found jobs for themselves.

Students will return to the campus Monday, Jan. 3, in preparation for the opening of the Winter quarter classes the following morning.

The Winter quarter will continue until March 18, ending with the graduation exercises on that day. Only one day's vacation is scheduled this quarter. Washington's birthday, on Tuesday, Feb. 22.

Pickaway county's many Ohio State students take part in numerous campus activities.

Among the recent honors announced are:

Kathryn Baum, Duvall; Chestora Dountz, Orient; Elizabeth Reber, Walnut township, and Evelyn Zimmerman, Monroe township, accepted as members of the women's glee club.

Chestora Dountz, Orient, elected secretary of Delta Omicron, professional music sorority.

Otis Mader chosen as social chairman this quarter for Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

RAIL EXECUTIVE HAS COLLECTION OF DIME NOVELS

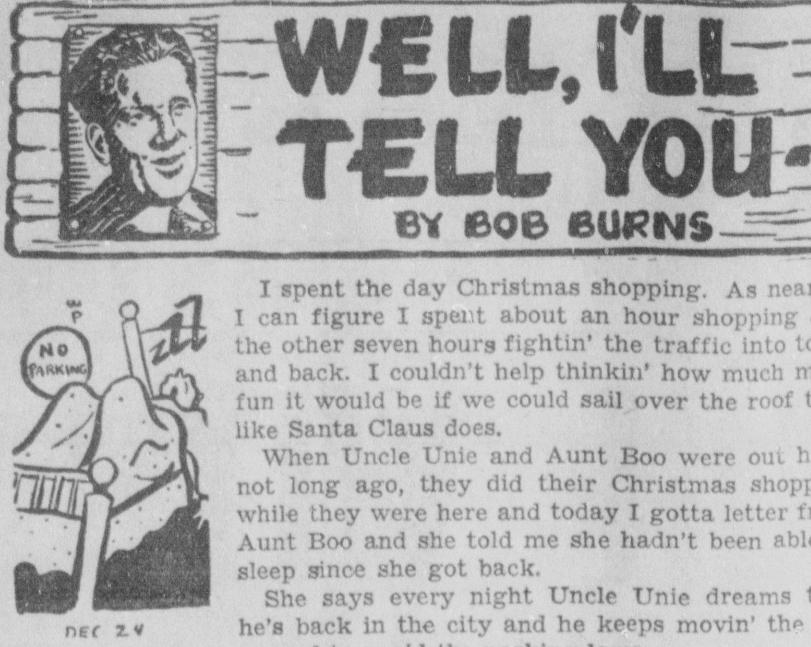

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Half a century ago a boy in Omaha, like many another youth his age, thrilled at the breath-taking adventures of "Buffalo Bill," "Dead-eye Dick," "Nick Carter," and the rest of the heroes of the paper-backed dime novels.

The youth did his reading in the attic and in a secluded corner of the barn because his parents, like other parents of the age, didn't think well of the characters that had a tremendous youthful following.

As he acquired these nickel and dime novels, George H. Hess, Jr., never failed to scribble his name on the flyleaf.

Time has brought a great deal of respectability to the old Indian-fighting, hard-riding, villain-fighting daredevils of the dime novel, and Hess, comptroller of the Great Northern railroad, has nearly 8,000 of them in his home here.

"As reading matter," Hess said, "naturally they hold little interest for me now. But I am collecting them in the hope of finding some with my name written in them. So far, after nine years of collecting, that hope is unfulfilled."

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU

BY BOB BURNS

I spent the day Christmas shopping. As near as I can figure I spent about an hour shopping and the other seven hours fightin' the traffic into town and back. I couldn't help thinkin' how much more fun it would be if we could sail over the roof tops like Santa Claus does.

When Uncle Univ. and Aunt Boo were out here, not long ago, they did their Christmas shopping while they were here and today I gotta letter from Aunt Boo and she told me she hadn't been able to sleep since she got back.

She says every night Uncle Univ. dreams that he's back in the city and he keeps movin' the bed around to avoid the parking laws.

HOBBIES HELP FIRE LOOKOUT IN LONELINESS

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—With the winter rains, the "Hermit of Mount Bigelow" came into Tucson.

Rotund, good-natured Charles Nolles, who won the cognomen because of his 17-year seasonal vigil as a fire lookout atop the mountain, brought with him a carved collection of wooden figures. The objects are copies of every form of animal life to be found in the desolate, wooded region where he makes his home for the major part of each year.

Mountain lions, deer and even soft-eyed wood rats are represented with natural colors simulated by inset wood. This, however, is only the work of a single summer.

In previous seasons, the "hermit" has learned many crafts and hobbies. He has carved and beaded belts and ornaments, make smoke stands, light shades and picture frames. He has learned to fashion bird forms from horns and to polish stones until they shine like gems.

Nolles attributes his versatility to the isolation of his post.

CHANNEL CITY TO GET STATUE OF BRITANNIA

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, France (UP)—A vast statue of Britannia will become the "statue of Liberty" of the English channel when it is unveiled early next spring at the entrance of the inner harbor of Boulogne. Nearly 100 feet high from its base to the tip of a trident held aloft, the statue will be visible for miles around and will greet travelers between Britain and France as the Statue of Liberty greets visitors to the United States.

The figure is intended as a symbol of the past and present friendship between France and England, and in it Felix Desruelles, the sculptor, has shown his conception of a Britannia completely armed and ready, but calm, serene and confident in her strength and right. The sculptor draped a scarf, emblem of her command of the seas, about her shoulders. "My Britannia," declared M.

The youth did his reading in the attic and in a secluded corner of the barn because his parents, like other parents of the age, didn't think well of the characters that had a tremendous youthful following.

As he acquired these nickel and dime novels, George H. Hess, Jr., never failed to scribble his name on the flyleaf.

Time has brought a great deal of respectability to the old Indian-fighting, hard-riding, villain-fighting daredevils of the dime novel, and Hess, comptroller of the Great Northern railroad, has nearly 8,000 of them in his home here.

"As reading matter," Hess said, "naturally they hold little interest for me now. But I am collecting them in the hope of finding some with my name written in them. So far, after nine years of collecting, that hope is unfulfilled."

FEW VITAMINS AFFECT VISION

LONDON (UP)—British government estimates of malnutrition among children based on present returns from school medical officers may have to be drastically revised as the result of scientific test for "night blindness" carried out on children from East End slums and public schoolboys in East Algeria.

Of 200 elementary schoolchildren examined, from 22 to 35 per cent have been found "definitely subnormal." At the public school, 90 per cent of the boys were passed as normal. Only 10 per cent were "slightly below normal."

A pigment call "visual purple," found in the retina of the eye, and derived from vitamin A and protein, is the secret of night blindness.

Dr. Leslie J. Harris and M. K. Maitra, who have been working on the problem at the Nutritional Laboratories at Cambridge, contribute an interim report to the Medical Journal Lancet revealing a serious shortage of vitamin A among elementary schoolchildren.

Hitherto only "presumptive" evidence of malnutrition in its earlier and vital stages has been detected by the limited clinical examinations which a medical officer can give to large numbers of children.

As a specific means of establishing under-feeding, the night blindness test applied by Dr. Harris is regarded by the Lancet as eminently satisfactory.

The photometer — working roughly on the principle of the earliest child's magic lantern — is the instrument used to record varying degrees of night blindness, or, alternately, the absence of vitamin A. Children who have sufficiency of green vegetables and dairy produce in their diet react normally. Those starved of the vital element are subnormal, because their visual, purple, is deficient.

Flier Feeds Marooned Ducks HAMILTON, Ont. (UP)—Food dropped from the sky saved 200 starving wild ducks marooned on ice-covered Dundas marsh, when Ernest Taylor, local airport instructor, piloted his plane over the marsh and scattered 50 pounds of wheat.

Relics of 1776 Found

FORT MONTGOMERY, N. Y. (UP)—Military uniform buttons, British half pennies, musket bullets, cannon balls and rum bottles have been unearthed by recent excavation at Fort Montgomery, the American defense of the Hudson river in the Revolutionary War. The relics are now displayed in the Bear Mountain Trailside Museum.
